The following injured were reported to the Atlanta and West Point office:

E. A. WALLACE,
H. K. CLEVELAND
MRS. J. A. HALL.

The exact injuries of the above three are unknown.

In a rear-end collision last night at 8 o'clock at the West Fair street crossing between the incoming Central railway passenger train, No. 15, from Macon, and a picnic train on the Atlanta and West Point railroad, which was preceding the Central train to the depot, Oscar Cook, a printer, residing with his father at 313 West Fair street, was instantly killed; Miss Luella Lancaster, of 139 Rawson street, was seriously injured, while six or eight other persons, occupied in the rear coach which was telescoped by the Central locomotive, were more or less painfully injured.

Suicide was at once rendered to the injured by the other passengers of the train, and Chief Joyner, of the fire department, and Chief Jennings, of the police force, each of whom arrived at the scene with a detail of firemen and policemen shortly after the wreck occurred.

The Atlanta and West Point train of sixteen coaches, crowded with a merry party of men, women and children, who

WERE SINGING SONGS WHEN CRASH CAME

Boy Who Was Killed in Wreck Said "Goodbye" to Injured Brother.

ROY COOK, the brother of the dead boy, who was also badly bruised in the accident when seen by a Constitution representative at his home last night said:

"Our crowd of a half-dozen young people, including my brother and myself, were sitting in the last three seats in the rear of the last coach.
"One of us began to sing 'God Be With You Till We Meet Again,' and it seemed as if everybody in the car took up the song, joining in with us, the whole car vibrating with it.
"We had just finished when in a twinkling, as it seemed, a large black object burst through the rear of the car. Instantly the terrible smoke became almost suffocating. I was knocked by the jolt to the ceiling of the car, my hand on descending, striking and breaking the car window.
"The screams of the young ladies calling for help was terrible. I got up to make my way out of the car as quickly as possible. Then I saw the form of my brother crushed, his head being wedged between the window sill and the water cooler.
"He lifted his eyes and said 'Goodbye,' and I knew that he had passed into the great beyond. I tried to go back and rescue the young ladies, but in my weakened condition found that to be impossible.
"It was a terrible thing to see my brother lying there dying, and for me to be unable to get to him and to all him.

Coupled with the frantic cries of the young ladies for help, it was indeed a terrible experience.

FIREMEN CUT INTO CAR FOR BODY OF DEAD MAN

Chief Joyner, who with a detail of firemen hurried to the scene of the accident as soon as he received the news, said:

"My men and I reached the scene a few moments after the collision and assisted in cutting into the side of the car to get the dead body of Oscar Cook, which was jammed in the sixth window from the rear of the last coach on the picnic train, telescoped by the engine of the Central train. We cut out two windows on the right hand side of the car, and released the body. He was crushed about the upper part of the body and head, the blood gushing forth from his head as we moved him, and his head drooped as though his neck were broken.
"The night yardmaster of the Central railroad was seated on the bridge just opposite the scene of the wreck, and a dozen persons who were standing on the platform must have inevitably been killed. The yardmaster saw the rapidly approaching Central train and cried out, 'Jump! Jump for your lives.' At this signal some of the men on the platform jumped and escaped, while others ran through the car and escaped injury.
This statement was made to one of my firemen by Yardmaster H. C. Johnson.
So far as I can learn, about a half-dozen persons were injured, the most seriously injured being Miss Luella Lancaster, who was taken on a stretcher to a neighboring house. Of course a number received slight bruises."

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE VISITED WRECK SCENE

Thousands of people packed every available foot of ground surrounding the scene of the big wreck of the Atlanta and West Point, which occurred at the West Fair street crossing last night.

All Atlanta was directly interested in the passengers of the train, nearly every man and woman in the city having some friend or loved one on the train.

There were sixteen cars, crowded with nearly 1,000 merry, happy picnickers, with no thought of danger of any kind until the collision came, when the Central train hit the picnic train.

Not in months have so many eager inquiries been made at The Constitution office by phone and in person as to the number injured in the wreck, who they were, and how it all happened.

Hailstones as Big as Baseballs.
Burlington, Iowa, June 6.—During a storm at Okmura, Ills., today hail stones as big as baseballs fell, breaking every plate glass window in town and doing other damage.

DEADLY SWATH CUT BY STORM IN MINNESOTA

Many Houses Were Destroyed and a Number of Lives Were Lost.

North Branch, Minn., June 6.—A tornado passed about one half mile east of here at 5 o'clock this afternoon doing heavy damage and probably a number of lives were lost. No details have yet arrived from the country, but the storm is known to have destroyed at least three farm houses near town. Mrs. My-gram and Benjamin Lagoo were badly injured.

Physicians were hurried up the path of the storm and it is reported several persons have been killed and many injured. The village of Wyoming was also in the path of the storm. The home of Mr. Funk at that place was destroyed.

The members of the family were injured.

At the village of Stacy, eight miles south of here, the following damage is reported:

G. B. Baxter, residence and barn gone;
Mrs. Baxter severely injured; one child had leg broken; Swedish Lutheran church destroyed; Olaf Anderson's barn gone.

Seven Hurt Near Lacrosse.
Lacrosse, Wis., June 6.—One man, H. I.
Halvorsen, was fatally hurt, four were seriously injured and ten buildings were destroyed by a tornado near Stoddard, Wis., tonight. The storm swept over Lacrosse.

Halvor Halvorsen, fatally hurt, with five other injured people were brought to Lacrosse. Several others are more or less seriously hurt.

The tornado entered apparently one and one half miles east of Stoddard, Vernon county. It passed up Coon valley and Mormon Coulee, striking Stoddard and Brinkman most heavily. Telephone communication is crippled and tel-graph wires are down toward the south.
In Lacrosse there was considerable damage though no one was injured.

A bridge on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road near Stoddard was corrupted off and a Burlington passenger train carrying two hundred passengers was flung at the brink of the gap by a farmer named Miller and many lives were saved. Many farms are reported completely devastated.

ON THE HOLY KISS
DUNKARDS DEBATE

SPRINGFIELD, ILLS., June 6.
The national conference of the German Baptist Brethren (the Dunkards), spent considerable time today discussing the question of abolishing the holy kiss, which is administered by the brethren and sisters of the church during the administration of the sacrament. A majority report of the standing committee is in favor of modifying the kiss, while a minority report favors abolition.

Macon, Ga., June 6.—(Special)—Three nights of deliberation by Mercer's board of trustees, and adjournment tonight at midnight brings to light another most unfortunate chapter in the history of the institution.

President Charles Lee Smith is to longer the head of Mercer, and Vice President Kilpatrick also severed his connection.

$150,000,000

WILL BE TAKEN FROM PACKERS BY ROOSEVELT

As a Result of the President's Crusade Against Conditions in Packing Houses.

BUSINESS WILL SHRINK AT LEAST TEN PER CENT

That Is the Estimate Made by Charles Armour—He Says American Meats Will Be Barred for a Very Long Time.

Kansas City, June 6.—It is estimated that the business done by the packing houses located here will suffer to the extent of $10,000,000 as the result of the agitation in connection with the president's crusade against "dressed" meats.
Representatives of the various plants seen today agreed with the estimate in the telegraphic dispatches of today that the business of the whole country would show a loss of at least $150,000,000.

Charles Armour said today:

"All this agitation is going to do an immense amount of damage, and in quarters where it will be the hardest to overcome the prejudices aroused. It will be a long time before the prejudice against American meats in England is allayed and it will be still longer on the continent. The packing industries of the country have enough obstacles to contend with without increasing the number unjustly or mischievously."

"I do not think the estimate of $150-000,000 loss to the packers in the whole country is exaggerated. That is only a shrinkage of about 10 per cent on the total volume of business done, which think is easily a billion and a half of dollars in all branches of the trade."

STUART HEADS THE TICKET.

Nominations by the Republicans of Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 6.—The republican state convention today nominated the following ticket:

Governor—Edwin S. Stuart, Philadelphia.

Lieutenant Governor—Robert S. Murphy, Camden.

Attorney General—Robert K. Young, Tioga county.

Secretary of Internal Affairs—Henry Hoyek, Lebanon.

The platform commends the national and state administrations, advocates legislation giving to trolley companies the right to carry freight, advocates a rent passenger rate on steam railroads and deals at great length on other state issues.

The ticket was the one agreed upon by United States Senator Penrose and other party leaders in advance of the convention. An attempt of certain county delegates to call to have advised to break the state failed.

The ticket represents all factions of the party and will, the leaders believe, harmonize all past differences. President Roosevelt is said to have advised selection of such a ticket, in the belief that it will help the congressional candi-

Jackson, Miss., June 6.—The governor's mansion, brilliantly illuminated in honor of a reception tendered by Miss Vardaman to young guests, was invaded by the provost guard of the state militia last night in search of a young man who was evading his duty. The intruder was found hiding upstairs and dragged down the stairs and through the reception hall, causing consternation among the guests. Governor and Mrs. Vardaman both protested against the search, but to no avail.

HEARTY KISSING BY THE KAISERS

Austrian and German Emperors in Osculatory Match.

Cordial Meeting Between the Monarchs at Vienna—Bevy of Archduchesses on Hand To Greet German War Lord.

Vienna, June 6.—Emperor William arrived here this morning and was greeted at the Northern railroad station by Emperor Joseph in person.

The meeting was marked by an extreme heartiness and cordiality, the monarchs kissing each other three times.

After introducing their suites, the emperors proceeded to Schoenbrunn castle.

On their arrival at the station near the castle, the imperial party was met by the archdukes, the members of the German embassy, the Austrian ambassador to Germany and the principal military and civil authorities. A regimental band on the platform played the Prussian national anthem. Emperor William inspected the guard of honor, after which the monarchs drove to the castle. They were heartily cheered along the route.

A number of archduchesses awaited their majesties at the castle, where the German emperor subsequently received in audience Count Goluchski, the Austria-Hungarian minister of affairs; Dr. Wackerle, the Hungarian premier; and Baron von Beck, the Austrian premier.

Later Emperor William drove through the town and called on members of the Austrian imperial family.

FOWLER SEEKS ELASTIC MONEY

Favorable Report Ordered on Credit Currency Bill.

Purpose of Measure Is To Enable National Banks To Increase or Decrease Their Circulation According to Varying Needs.

Washington, June 6.—The house committee on banking and currency today ordered a favorable report on the Fowler bill, which authorizes any national bank, with the approval of the comptroller of the currency, to take out for issue and circulation an amount of national bank notes not exceeding 50 per cent of its paid-up and unimpaired capital without depositing United States bonds with the treasury as security therefor.

The amount of the notes shall at no time exceed the amount of secured notes of the bank making the issue, and the total amount of both shall not exceed the paid-up and unimpaired capital of the bank. The bill requires banks taking out this credit currency to keep on deposit in the treasury in lawful money an amount equal to 5 per cent of such credit currency to be held for the redemption thereof. The bank is also required to maintain in its vaults the same reserve against the credit currency as is required to be kept to guarantee its regular circulation.

The object of the bill, as explained by Chairman Fowler, is to provide a system of credit currency "without cheapening the present methods for issuing currency—that is, to graft on our present bond secured circulation an issue of bank notes that will currently adjust itself to the varying needs of business throughout the year and thus prevent the inevitable fall panic growing out of the need of more currency when the crops are being harvested and marketed."

Bribery Charge Against Wisconsin Secretary of State.

Madison, Wis., June 6.—A warrant for the arrest of Secretary of State Walter Houser, charging attempted bribery, was issued today. The complaint is signed by State Insurance Commissioner Host.

The trouble arose out of insurance Commissioner Host's charge that Houser, in 1903, offered to give $2,000 to the republican campaign fund if Host would render a decision favorable to the Equitable Life Assurance Society in the case involving the distribution of dividends.

Mr. Host made the charge in his testimony before the insurance investigating committee which is examining the affairs of life insurance companies doing business in Wisconsin. Houser says he welcomes the proposed examination.

RECTOR CRAPSEY FIGHTS VERDICT

He Files Appeal From Findings of Church Court.

He Contends That the Court Which Convicted Him of Heresy Was Unfairly Organized—He Says Decision Is Erroneous.

Rochester, N. Y., June 6.—The Rev. Algonson S. Crapsey, rector of St. Andrew's church, of this city, who was found guilty of heresy after a trial by an ecclesiastical court, at Batavia, last month, today filed an appeal from the findings of the court. Writings contained in Dr. Crapsey's book, "Religion and Politics," constituted the basis of the charges against the clergyman, which alleged denial in certain beliefs and doctrines of the church as set forth in the Apostles' and Nicene creeds.

Dr. Crapsey was sentenced to suspension from exercising his ministerial functions until such time as he should satisfy the ecclesiastical authority of his diocese that his belief and teaching conform to the doctrines contained in the aforesaid Nicene creed.

Dr. Crapsey appeals from the court's decision on every point. He contends that the court was illegally and unfairly organized; that it erred in refusing to allow him proper time for the preparation of his defense and that by its decision it undertook to determine questions of doctrine, faith and worship. The appeal continues in part:

"It was the duty of the court to determine whether or not I was guilty of the charges set forth in the presentments, also to state in their decision the sentence which in their opinion should be pronounced, and that the court erred in refusing to hear evidence in my behalf, and separately, according to the common practice and understanding of its clergy and of the church, the statements made by me complete in the end of the presentment were within my liberty, duty and right to make."

"The decision is erroneous, indefinite, uncertain and void in that it prescribes or proposes as a punishment that I be suspended from exercising the functions of a minister of this church until such time as I shall satisfy the ecclesiastical authority of the diocese that my belief and teaching conform to the doctrines of the Apostles' creed and the Nicene creed as this church has received the same."

Work of the Supreme Court.
Washington, June 6.—A review of the business of the supreme court of the United States for the term 1905-6, which has just closed, shows that 443 cases, or sixty-one more than in the previous term, were disposed of.

Four hundred and eighty-eight cases were added during the term and 305 cases are still in the docket. For the first time in thirty-five years the court reached cases in the regular call within seven months of the date of filing.

HE MUST FIGHT OR SURRENDER TO RUSS DOUMA

Conflict Between Czar Nicholas and Parliament Can Hardly Be Averted.

EXCITEMENT IN RUSSIA IS RAPIDLY INCREASING

Strikes Have Begun at Many Places and the Peasants Are No Longer Restrained—Russians Bent on Wiping Out Landlordism.

St. Petersburg, June 6.—The lower house of parliament and the government are rapidly coming to close quarters and the conflict which became inevitable the moment the popular assembly presented its demands in the address to the throne cannot be much longer delayed.

The excitement in the interior is increasing rapidly. Partial strikes have begun at Kirov, Odessa, Irkutsk and other cities and the peasants in some provinces are no longer restrained and have commenced to seize the land of the proprietors. The leaders of the constitutional democrats in the lower house who for tactical reasons first sought to postpone a conflict in order to be able to choose the time and place for the battle, realize that they must go with the tide, but the government which equally sought to calmly ignore the "extra constitutional" demands of the house and sent the ministers to the house with conciliatory speeches, realizes that the governmental policy has failed.

Must Yield or Fight.

Since the government declined to give the house satisfaction regarding the continued expectation of the peasants or to bring to book the local officials whose tyranny is fanning the flames of popular indignation, parliament has no alternative except the issue of a vote of confidence. The scene at yesterday's session when the house refused to listen to the ministers and practically drove them from the rostrum clearly presents the issue. The emperor must dismiss the cabinet or fight.

In yielding to the militant spirit of the radicals upon this point, the constitutional democrats again solidified the opposition, which was on the verge of dissensions over the agrarian question—eager to take advantage of the government's plan to make a direct appeal to the peasantry by distributing to land-hungry peasants, on easy payments, 3,750,000 acres of crown lands on the right bank of the Volga and in the southern and central provinces without awaiting the action of parliament. It being reliably reported that the government has strongly advised by the leaders of the nobility who are holding a general congress here.

Will Destroy Landlordism.

The members of the nobility are perfectly aware that the parliamentary programme, if adopted, will wipe out landlordism in Russia and that the fair price which the programme offers for their expropriated property will not save them from economic ruin. Therefore, the nobility are organizing in order to make a stiff fight for the preservation of their prerogatives.

While a few of them apparently read the signs of the times aright and are also making the best of a bad situation, the majority are stiff-necked aristocrats who are not in favor of yielding an iota. They even hesitate to endorse the moderate government programme and have sent a message expressing their loyalty to the emperor, in which they did not even mention the existence of parliament.

Fiercy Invective.

The lower house of parliament was again occupied today in discussion of the all-important agrarian problem, though the greater portion of the session was taken up with debate on extraneous matters. Only five orators, four of whom were interesting, were heard on the direct subject of land, the long waiting list still including more than one hundred names. Three of the speakers whom were Poles reiterated the poles' objections to the constitutional democratic project.

Chupko, the intransigent peasant orator, alone aroused the interest of the house with fiery invective against the plans of the majority. He preached the doctrine of full nationalization of land, declaring that millions of voices were joining in the cry of "land, land," and for a full distribution of this divine gift to man. The constitutional democratic project, he declared, was iniquitous, because it permitted the existence of private estates, but this would be swept away by the righteous wrath of the peasantry.

Troops Are Mutinous.

A new cloud is looming up in the government's horizon in serious unrest among the troops, the only stay of the administration in case of an open rupture with parliament, evidence of which is being received from many quarters. In addition to the Kursk troubles, which, in spite of the official disclaimer that they are of a political character, are known to have been fomented by revolutionists, there is open fomentation in the garrison of Odessa while the Cossacks at Rostoff-on-Don and elsewhere are muttering because of the long time they have been absent from their homes. In addition, it is learned that the new recruits instead of revivifying the loyalty of the army, have infected the ranks still further with the revolutionary virus, which is so widespread among the peasantry. Undoubtedly it is too early to say that the army cannot be depended upon, and that an armed uprising is imminent, but it is certain that disaffection has made wide strides since last summer, and the revolutionists are now bending their entire efforts to this propaganda.

LAST Public Auction Sale OF REMAINING Ansley Park Extension Lots Friday, June 15, 1906.

"It ain't a bad idee, in the hoss business, anyway, to be willin' to let the other feller make a dollar once'n awhile."

"It's the same way in the real estate business," remarked Edwin P. Ansley, referring to this trite aphorism of David Harum.

On June 15 Mr. Ansley will sell at public auction the last remaining lots in beautiful Ansley Park Extension. This announcement of a great auction sale, which means so much to Atlanta, is quite in keeping with the regulation methods of this real estate Napoleon.

It's the Ansley way.

It is just this quick, modern method of turning over big sums of money rapidly, of developing big operations and then consummating them at once, that has made the enviable reputation of this real estate man.

But while this announcement calls for an auction sale within a few days, a careful and costly preparation has required over six months and a vast outlay of money.

More than one hundred thousand dollars has been spent in development. This includes a chain of magnificent boulevards and driveways 75, 80 and 90 feet in width, altogether making possible over ten miles of the most beautiful driveways in Atlanta, all within Ansley Park, besides many parks and plazas.

Easy enough it is to make these claims, but the proofs are to be found in one single visit to Ansley Park.

More than one hundred teams, including wagons, scoop shovels, road scrapers and all of the paraphernalia and impediments used in the waging of war against dense forests, underbrush and thickets for the transforming of these natural conditions to a beautiful residential park.

The best proof of the confidence real estate men have in Atlanta property is the fact that they are all putting their own money in this kind of investment as rapidly as possible. They ought to know its real value if any people do.

While all these teams and an army of workmen are now employed in this development, under Landscape Engineer Ruff, all of these driveways are entirely open and offer advantages for both carriages and motor cars which cannot possibly be found in any other park or portion of Atlanta. Hundreds are improving this opportunity and every afternoon and morning finds many of Atlanta's most exclusive and prominent citizens viewing the work which is being done, from carriages, automobiles or saddles.

These same opportunities are offered to those who will take either a Peachtree, Piedmont avenue or Courtland car to Ansley Park. Even for those who have no intention of buying property this trip must prove profitably interesting.

It will show what Edwin P. Ansley and the Atlanta spirit are doing there.

Don't let 5 cents car fare keep you from seeing what this commercial artillery corps has accomplished within the past six months.

Northward Atlanta has made its way along Peachtree street, and more recently Piedmont avenue, until now a drive in that direction will prove that very few opportunities are left to secure property in this, the most desirable, beautiful and valuable section of Atlanta. So it is that these lots in Ansley Park Extension are the last remaining in this part of the city, and the names of those many prominent citizens who have already purchased lots at former sales mark this residential park as a certain social center of Atlanta.

Very many of these are already building homes. The best way to prove this statement is to go and see the evidences of many of the finest types of architecture in the city.

The majority of Atlantans have not the slightest idea of the development and transformation which is now going on in this portion.

As these ten miles of new boulevards and broad driveways just added to Greater Atlanta cover the most historic chapters in the story of the city, as well as the most beautiful natural scenery, they have already become the driving center of Atlanta. Another reason, these wide avenues lead directly to the Piedmont Driving Club, whose magnificent new home is to be erected immediately. In the same way these boulevards must furnish the pleasure grounds of more motor cars than any other section. They are built with this idea in view. As new automobiles are being purchased daily, this is an important factor in real estate development.

But best of all, this residential section directly faces Piedmont Park, and fortunately that portion of the park which has been saved for its natural beauty and must always be preserved as the city's coolest resting place and favorite playground.

Ansley Park also faces the home of the Exposition of 1910, and all future fete occasions in the city. This location insures the pure air and country home advantages found only in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains with the added advantages belonging to the greatest metropolis of the South.

Can any one estimate the added value of real estate in this section which must result from the Exposition alone? Add to this the increased value to the best residential property, the future "Central Park West" of Atlanta and the society center of a city of more than two hundred thousand persons (all of which is sure to result within a very few years), and every lot in this section must double and treble in value every few years.

Are you going to be in on this increase, or must you tell your children of a chance you had which you failed to improve? Many of Atlanta's wealthiest citizens have gotten rich by just such opportunities. Do you want to?

Atlanta is just beginning to grow.

Atlanta is the railroad and commercial center of the South and as the South develops she must constantly increase in size and importance. The attention of the entire country is turned to the South. The South naturally looks to Atlanta as the home of her greatest enterprises.

Southern agents are hurrying to Atlanta as never before and factories and industries are applying more rapidly than they can be located. This is history. Now, where are these new citizens going to live?

These citizens are going to buy homes in a beautiful residential park such as they are accustomed to in Northern and Eastern cities—places where there are plenty of fresh air, park privileges and most of all, neighborhoods they know property rights will be respected and protected.

They are going to select places where they can build beautiful homes and know that there is no danger of having their property values depreciated by the wrong kind of tenants or unpleasant neighbors. All Ansley Park land owners protect themselves by protecting each other.

Uniform lawns, broad boulevards, handsome residences, the latest and most modern appliances and appointments, such requirements as these offer no possible chance for interlopers or objectionable persons.

And as this 1910 Exposition, and future occasions, are sure to increase real estate values all over the city and tremendously appreciate property adjoining this most beautiful playground of Atlanta, every purchaser of these lots will have a chance to be a practical winner through these means.

Very soon the trolleys must be extended to the northernmost limits of the Park on Piedmont avenue, as they now are on Peachtree street, thus offering the most picturesque and historic ride in Atlanta, connecting, as they do, the most famous battlefields as well as the old Confederate defenses. This section is sure to be the most popular not only for Atlantans, but for all visitors as well.

Do you want to wait until after all of this has been done, and then try and buy, and so let some other man make the profits?

June 15 will give you the chance to bid and make profitable investments or secure the most beautiful home sites in the city. Other investors have made big profits in the last Ansley Park public auctions of April 25, 1904; September 16, 1904; May 14, 1905, and October 19, 1905. Some of these sold their lots at a big profit directly after purchasing.

Every single purchaser has been offered a big profit on the price he paid, but almost every purchaser refused to sell, preferring to build homes or hold the property two or three years, when Atlanta is certain to have a population of 200,000 persons. Others mean to wait ten or twenty years. These lots will represent a great fortune at that time.

If you want to insure riches to your children, a lot purchased June 15 and held in their name until they attain majority means an investment such as must protect them against all possible loss or suffering.

What would it mean to you if your father had done this same thing right here in Atlanta? The increase in property values in this section the last ten or twenty years has been sufficient to make a few lots represent a real fortune at this present time.

There are a thousand more reasons for the assured future of this great residential section, Ansley Park, which will suggest themselves to you the moment you are on the grounds.

Don't fail to go out and see what this combination of Edwin P. Ansley and the Atlanta spirit is doing in the development of Greater Atlanta's most beautiful and valuable home section.

Some of our esteemed contemporaries seem to think the beef trust is cowed.

Uncle Sam seems to have taken the beef trust bull by the horns at last.

The elevator trust has been having its legal ups and downs—mostly downs.

What is wanted in the packing houses is inspectors of the non-graftable variety.

Wonder if Burton resigned without first demanding graft from his appointive successor's salary.

What the muck-rake struck in Pack-ington makes a comical meal like a Persian rose field in contrast.

Ex-Senator Burton's services as a lawyer are now open to the public in ance companies or the Pennsylvania railroad.

The beef trust may be immune from legal punishment, but it is before the court of public sentiment and patronage—now.

The agricultural department seems to have been brought with the cotton goods again. Hyde and Holmes seem to have their successors.

The war of words in the domain would be more than a little terrible, perhaps, if the language employed in their expression were not Russian.

Baltimore has opened a fine public do Atlanta about as much good as a

It is now in order for the beef trust

The latest statehood news from Wash-into a single state until each by referendum has declared in favor of the combination.

WHAT GEORGIA OFFERS HOME-MAKERS.

There is a new campaign afoot in the entire sweep of southern states, from Richmond to the Rio Grande. This territory, the richest and most versatile of its size in the world, has recorded in the last thirty years greater progress in the accumulation of wealth, the diminution of debt, the founding and enlarging of towns and cities, and the transforming of resources into dividend-bearers than any parallel offered in history. It has now reached that stage where, with its possibilities merely touched, further growth is definitely impeded by a factor simple in appearance, but prodigious in results—lack of men to till its unused soil, to man the machines in its factories, to collect the products of its mines and forests and to push active railroad construction.

So it happens that each one of the southern states—faced by a mutual problem—is engaged in a vigorous campaign, the slogan of which is—

Send us laborers to work in our fields, our forests and our manufactory. Send us the sort of men we can absorb into our civilization—sturdy, law-abiding, energetic, able and willing to seize opportunities and push them to the maximum maturity. Send us home-makers, with their families; send us young single men, with the desire and determination to cooperate with us in the task of southern development.

Georgia is taking part in this friendly but pressing competition. Abundant capital is here, eager to invest in cotton and other factories. It is restrained by lack of labor. The deficiency must be met if we would see the industrial development of the state go forward with giant strides.

In south Georgia there are hundreds of thousands of acres of the most fertile lands in the country lying idle for sheer lack of owners and labor. This land—adapted to cotton cultivation and the raising of half a dozen staple and surplus money crops—can be bought for a fourth or a third of the price of land in Ohio or Illinois or further west. It is vastly more prolific than the land in those states, naturally. Intelligent fertilization multiplies its value many times. An equal amount of time and labor invested on an acre here and an acre in the states indicated, brings a triple return in Georgia.

Railroads criss-cross the sections. Others are in process of construction. Navigable rivers flow to gulf and Atlantic ports. Transportation to state and foreign markets is ample and reasonable.

The farmers, the merchants, the bankers of that section have proven these facts. The tillers of the land, with rare exceptions, are free of debt and are depositors—often lenders.

The same is true of central and nonmountainous north Georgia.

The towns throughout south, central and north Georgia are wide-awake and literally clamoring for developers. The banks are well supplied with money, and they oppose no onerous restrictions on the reliable man who would borrow it for purposes of legitimate investment. These large and small municipalities—in every portion of the state—offer ideal localities for permanent home-making. The state and local educational systems are perfect. Churches of all denominations abound. The reign of law is absolute. Postoffices and rural free delivery facilities are plentiful and growing with each week. The statutory enactments of Georgia are so framed as to allow the largest conservative latitude of any southern commonwealth, in the issuance of bonds for municipal and other improvements.

The territory about Atlanta and every other large city or town is adapted to truck-gardening, offering quick returns and ready markets for the enterprising farmer who has mastered intensive methods.

The Georgia peach belt this year sends out its record crop, exporting to all portions of the country—even to Europe. The area available for peach, pecan and other fruit productions is still ample. Land is cheap. The yield never wants for a profitable market, and the men back of the industry are each year improving conditions attending the marketing of their crops.

The opportunity for the establishment of large and small industries in Georgia is illimitable. The potential water powers of the state have been exploited to only about one-tenth of their capacity. Fuel for steam plants is easy of access and low in price. Raw materials, agricultural and mineral, are available in generous quantity and at minimum cost. The market for the sale of articles manufactured from metal, leather, wood and cloth is Georgia, the south, the nation and countries over the sea. The man with capital—whether of one thousand or one million dollars—is given the helping hand by the people of the state.

These are barely the head-notes covering Georgia's inducement for fresh population, whether laboring man, merchant, professional man or capitalist. The farmers have an incentive to participate in this movement—they need more labor. They have an additional incentive, in that the occupying of unimproved lands by sturdy and respectable classes means the appreciation of their own lands. The town and city people have an equal interest, in that the influx of population will assist in the upbuilding, industrially and commercially, of both. The state at large has, perhaps, the most imminent concern, since the joint activities of all these factors works to the enhancement of the value of all property and the positive creation of new values.

We can accomplish these ends—gradually and sanely—by attracting immigration. Immigration, too, of the carefully selected, discriminate sort, whether from our own country or from foreign nations. The state, officially, can largely aid in the movement for Greater Georgia. The most important consideration, however, is to make our advantages manifest, not spasmodically, not with the burden falling on one class of our people, but unrelentingly, with discerning intelligence, and with every patriotic Georgian fighting his part in the campaign.

Author Sinclair as a "Muck-Baker." It is gossiped in Washington that when President Roosevelt read Up-ton Sinclair's book, "The Jungle," which exposes in the thin disguise of fiction the disgraceful conditions at the Chicago stock yards, he thought he saw an opportunity to expose another literary "muck-raker." The president's indignation, it is said, was more against the author than the packers, for he did not believe it possible that the great packing houses could so flagrantly defy all the unwritten laws of commercial decency and honesty, to say nothing of evading the system of federal inspection supposed to be in force at the stock yards.

Before the president sent Neill and Reynolds on their muck-raker extermination expedition he gave the packers fair warning of their coming by announcing through "Raymond," The Chicago Tribune correspondent, that federal inspectors were going to make a sort of slumming tour of Pack-dirty packing houses where white-wash would stick. They returned to Washington with a confidential report that out-jungled "The Jungle." They had seen things at night in the stock-yards as well as in the daytime. While their report lay locked in a drawer in the president's desk the Beveridge bill was suddenly and mysteriously passed without undue publicity in debate, the strange announcement being made that the packing-house people had "agreed" to the measure. It had leaked out, however, that the Neill-Reynolds report was most damaging to a great American industry and that its publication would cripple the poor stockraisers and farmers, who could sell their livestock nowhere else than to the beef trust.

The president did not make this much-discussed report public until a democratic congressman, Mr. Sulzer, of New York, introduced a resolution requesting the executive department to take such action.

The explosion that followed is still detonating throughout the length and breadth of the land and around the world.

Recently, in a New York interview, Author Sinclair added a little chapter to the literary and legislative scandal when he said:

"The slaughter houses of Chicago are conducted on the principle that meat once good is always good. I lived there seven weeks and saw with my own eyes how the business is conducted. My amazement excited amusement among the employees, who regarded everything as much a matter of course that they could not understand by wonderment.

"In a room where spots of hams are treated in a cellar by man who pumps fluid into them with a foot pump, the stench of the decayed meat is unbearable, but I was laughed at because I could not see it."

There is not a can of meat in the Armour establishment that does not contain borax. Swift & Co. have a chemist under contract to perform a process of deodorizing for frying hams. Those spoiled in the smoking process are sold as No. 3. The ham always spoils near the bone. This is taken out, a white-hot iron inserted and the ham becomes a No. 1.

"A muck-raker," he said, "who exports articles, are only able to do so by big and tough as to be unusable. The skin is taken off, ground into paste, flavored with spices and sold as head cheese. The same is done with the fish, of which plant for potted chicken. The fish of unsalable calves is far more profitable, and is used almost exclusively for that purpose. Not a shred of chicken meat is sold as is, but is used for soup. Chemicals are used to make the meat retain its color. Old cows, so nearly dead that they have to be carted, are used for the canned roast beef. Fifty percent of these are with calf. Soup and beef extracts are made from the liquid drained from this boiled meat."

I have an affidavit sworn to before Alfred H. Jennings, notary, in which the defendant declares that he was employed for eight months by Swift & Co. and had to learn because he could not stand the business. He has seen hogs thrown into vats to be dyed red so the flesh would be of a natural color. The commis-sioners have a copy of the affidavit. A car-line salesman has verified my own observations to the letter. He declares that the only chickens in the Armour packing houses were cold storage, and never were used for potted chicken. He bears out, further, my investigation that cow's udders were dyed and used as canned goods. Tuberculosis in hogs is so common as to be a fact. Hogs dead from cholera or smothered in death in transit are shipped to market, and there turned into hog grease. Some of this product is shipped to France and used in making a fancy sardine oil.

Mr. Sinclair seems to stand acquitted of literary muck-raking. He has done a great thing for a "square deal" in future for the consumers of trust packing-house products.

DAN CAREY TO RESCUE

OF MAYOR OF KOBE

DAN CAREY, secretary to the may-or, came up against the parcels post system good and strong yesterday. As has already been chronicled, Mayor Minakami, of Kobe, Japan, sent to Atlanta to secure literature as to the administration of the city's affairs, and Mayor Woodward succeeded in getting together some eight pounds of annual reports, etc., for the enlightenment of the mayor of Kobe. Mr. Carey was instructed to transmit this material to Japan, and tied the several pamphlets up into a neat bundle. These were sent to the postoffice, but in a few minutes were returned. The postoffice could not handle the bundle on account of its weight. Mr. Carey did not despair, however, and the package was transferred to the express company. But everything seemed to be against him. The express handling the bundle, for they said, it would never get any further than New York, and the mayor of Kobe would never get his information.

Mr. Carey thought that he was up against a proposition indeed. He scratched his head thrice, thoughtfully, then snapped his fingers cheerily, and quoth, "Now, I've got it!" The neatly tied bundle was unwrapped, and each pamphlet was tied up separately. Although all the bundles aggregated the same weight as the former one, the objection was removed, and the mayor of Kobe will still have the opportunity which he sought with such courtesy, to model his far distant city after far famed Atlanta, and he owes it largely to Secretary Carey's ingenuity.

FUNERAL OF MR SCOFIELD.

Services Will Be Conducted at His Residence This Morning.

The funeral service of Gerrit Smith Schofield, the well known mining engineer, who died in Macon last Thursday, will be held at the corner of Peachtree and Alexander streets, Bishop C. K. Nelson, of the diocese of Georgia, will conduct the services for the laying of the cornerstone. In addition, there will be addresses by Rev. Mr. W. W. Laidlaw, Captain E. S. Gay, and Rev. C. W. Wilmer, rector of the parish. The laying of this cornerstone has been delayed two or three times for various purposes, having been postponed until this afternoon from last Tuesday afternoon.

The new church building will be one of the handiest in Atlanta, and will be erected at the cost of $50,000.

A great many interesting articles, which were placed in the cornerstone at the time of the erection of the old church on October 21, 1862, will be taken out and placed in the new cornerstone.

1910 EXPOSITION

IS NOW ASSURED

Secretary Walter Cooper Is

Enthusiastic Over Outlook

He Says That Atlanta Can Raise the Balance of the Fund Needed With Very Little Trouble—Work Will Continue.

As the days go by the work of the exposition of 1910 is moving on at so steady and strong a pace, that there is practically no doubt of the success of the great show. The workings of committees and subcommittees is becoming confident and powerful, and the whole moves forward like some great machine, which having gained its impetus, is not to be stayed.

The committee of fifty was to hold a meeting today for the purpose of advancing the work, but on account of the death of Little Hugh Grant, the son of John W. Grant, it has been postponed until tomorrow.

Yesterday W. G. Cooper gave an interview to The Constitution voicing the sanguine spirit of every member of the committee.

"Atlanta can raise the balance of the exposition guarantee," said Mr. Cooper, "without straining herself. Although we have canvassed the city twice already, and have raised $339,000, there is plenty of material yet to work on."

"Since the last meeting of the committee of fifty I made a careful investigation of the situation, and find matters stand about as follows:

"Atlanta has 2,000 firms listed by the commercial agencies. Of these about 750 are small. For the sake of conservatism we will count the last 1,250. Of these about 500 have subscribed to the exposition already. The remaining 750 are also to be counted, because amount, and most of them will do so when the matter is brought home to them by committees. We have been perfecting organization for this purpose for several days, and the association of the committee of fifty, the new machinery will be set in motion."

"Besides firms and corporations there are many individuals who have not been reached. The committee of business citizens who are still more numerous, we know by the records accessible to us that there are 5,000 men of good standing and fine credit who are well able to subscribe to the exposition. About 2,000 of these have done so, either directly, or through firms, and the other 3,000 are within reach of our committees."

"Of course this means a tremendous amount of work, but the committee of twenty-five has been working hard, and we have just brought to the front a heavy reinforcement of fresh troops, who are enthusiastic on the exposition and eager to do their share of the work. Their quality is good, and they are well equipped, and we confidently expect large results."

"In the meantime we look for a good addition from several of the block committees, who have not completed their work, and have promised to bring more subscriptions. One of them, the Empire building committee, consisting of J. R. Nutting, chairman, Wilbur L. Moore, C. C. McChesney, Sr., and A. F. Liebman, after a partial canvass, reported $1,500 today."

WILL EXTEND

STREET SEWER

Fulton County Employees

Will Get Short

Vacation.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of county commissioners held yesterday, it was voted to extend the Orme street sewer from Eighth street, where it terminates at present, to the Southern railway at Brookwood. This will be done with $10,000 appropriated by the city for material, and the county will furnish the labor necessary for the work.

It is the sense of the county commissioners that the county should extend all city sewers from the city limits, provided the city furnishes the money for material, as in this instance.

The board also determined to put the convicts at work to improve Roswell road, a turnpike about 20 miles long, and Holderness street will be paved from Locust avenue to Gordon street.

Chairman Culbertson introduced a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, providing that all Fulton county employees, under the authority of the commission, of reason and necessity, be granted leave of absence on full pay for at least ten days in each year, the heads of departments to take their leave at such times as they see fit, and other employees at such times as the superintendent of their respective departments may decide best so as not to impair the public service.

WILL LAY CORNER STONE.

St. Luke's Cornerstone Services Will be Held This Afternoon at 5 O'clock.

The laying of the cornerstone of the new building of St. Luke's Episcopal church will take place this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the corner of Peachtree and Alexander streets, Bishop C. K. Nelson, of the diocese of Georgia, will conduct the services for the laying of the cornerstone. In addition, there will be addresses by Rev. Mr. W. W. Laidlaw, Captain E. S. Gay, and Rev. C. W. Wilmer, rector of the parish.

The laying of this cornerstone has been delayed two or three times for various purposes, having been postponed until this afternoon from last Tuesday afternoon.

WIRELESS MAST

REACHES CITY

Attracted Attention From

People Passing by the Candler Building.

Yesterday morning the great mast, which will be erected at the De Forest wireless telegraph station on the top of the Candler building, arrived, and on Monday will be placed in position, when it will tower 347 feet above the level of Peachtree street, or about 1,150 feet above sea level. The mast itself is 112 feet high.

The great mast has been expected for some time by Mr. K. S. Finch, who is manager of the Atlanta station. Great difficulty was experienced in securing the pole which would answer the exacting requirements. The pole, or rather the pole, for one will be "stepped up" upon the other after the fashion of a ship mast, is made of the very best Louisiana long leaf pine, and several were rejected before adequate ones could be found. The great pieces of timber were yesterday given a coat of white lead to fortify them against the weather.

Mr. Finch has had a squad of men at work for some time on the summit of the Candler building, preparing the stays for 13 heavy guy cables, which will hold the pole in position. These are sunk deep through the masonry, and riveted into the steel beams, which are a part of the building, and as Mr. Finch expressed it, the whole Candler building will have to be pulled up by the roots before the pole can be dislocated. There will be ten sets of guys, one set of guys on the mast near its base, another about the middle, and the third near the top. These will make the mast absolutely stable. The base of the mast will be fitted into a socket, one set of guys will be imposed upon one of the steel columns of the building. This socket is made of six-inch steel, and will be 14 square to admit the base of the mast.

THE STREET COMMITTEE OF council, which was to have held a meeting yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering the gas franchise matter, failed to hold a session on account of the failure to secure a quorum. The meeting has been postponed until the regular time for this committee to meet.

THE PARK BOARD HELD A SHORT session yesterday afternoon. A quantity of routine matters were attended to and nothing of unusual moment came up. It was decided to refer the matter of removing a quantity of lumber from the site of the burned Fine Arts building at Piermont park to the commissioner of public works. This park was granted to the military for July 5, to be used for a sham battle. Other minor matters were attended to.

Respite for Alf Moore.

Governor Terrell on yesterday afternoon granted a respite until July 13 to Alf Moore, the negro condemned to death as an accomplice of the Hawkins boys in the murder of the Carter children. The respite was granted pending the decision in the superior court of Lowndes county of an extraordinary motion for a new trial made by the negro's attorney.

And Indiana Democrats Will Probably Declare for Him Today. Bryan's Name Heads Ticket Put Out in Arkansas.

THE ARKANSAS TICKET. For president in 1908, William J. Bryan, of Nebraska.

For United States senator, Jefferson Davis.

Governor, J. S. Little.

Auditor, A. E. Moore.

Secretary of state, C. C. Ludwig.

Treasurer, J. L. Yates.

Attorney general, W. F. Kirby.

Superintendent public instruction, J. J. Doyle.

Land commissioner, L. L. Kaufman.

Agricultural commissioner, Guy A. Tucker.

Associate justice, J. C. Reddick.

Railroad commissioners, southern district, H. T. Hampton; northern district, J. W. Crockett.

Hot Springs, Ark., June 6.—The convention of the democratic party of the state in session here today, amid expressions of intense enthusiasm unanimously adopted resolutions endorsing William J. Bryan to be the democratic standard bearer in the presidential campaign of 1908, and selected the nominees of the party for senatorial and state offices to be voted on at the ensuing general election. The day's proceedings were harmonious throughout, in marked contrast to the proceedings of Tuesday.

The resolution endorsing William J. Bryan for the presidency was adopted at the opening of the convention today. At the very mention of the name of Bryan the assemblage became wild with enthusiasm, and the resolutions were adopted by acclamation.

After transacting the routine business of the matter of canvassing the returns of the late senatorial primary was taken up, and the committee reported that Governor Jefferson Davis had received 68,000 votes, and Senator Berry 54,780 votes.

Instructed for Davis.

The name of Governor Davis was the only one presented to the convention, and he was declared the nominee, after which a resolution was adopted instructing the democratic members of the legislature to cast their votes for him in the United States senate.

Governor Davis was called to the platform, and addressed the convention, expressing his appreciation of the nomination conferred and accepting the nomination.

WILL CONNECT CENTRAL CITY WITH ATLANTA

Plans Announced by Incorporators for Interurban Street Car Company.

COMMITTEE IS APPOINTED TO TRANSACT BUSINESS

Important Meeting Was Held Yesterday at Noon in the Office of Ellis, Wimbish and Ellis To Make Necessary Plans.

Atlanta to Macon, via Griffin, by an interurban electric railway, affording rapid transit without dust or cinders.
Such is the assurance given by the incorporators of the Atlanta, Griffin and Macon Electric Railway Company, who held a meeting at noon yesterday in the office of Ellis, Wimbish and Ellis.

At the meeting held yesterday subscriptions to the capital stock were made pending the granting of the charter, application for which will be made to the secretary of state as soon as the instrument is returned from Macon and Griffin, where it has been sent for the signatures of the incorporators there.

After subscribing the capital stock the following gentlemen were appointed as an executive committee to transact all business in connection with the preliminary work of building the railway: W. J.
Kirkland, Griffin; W. Jordan Massey, Macon; Clifford L. Anderson, Edwin P.
Ansley and W. A. Wimbish, Atlanta.

The engineering department of the N.
P. Pratt Laboratory was authorized and directed to proceed at once to locate the entire line of railway and take details to the entire rights of way, and also to make a precise estimate of the costs of the entire railway, including grading, track laying, bridging, trestling, power plants, electrical equipment and appliances, rolling stock, telephone service and the location of stations along the route.

It is the intention of the incorporators to construct a high class electric railway between the cities of Atlanta, Griffin and Macon and to equip it with the most modern appliances for the most rapid transit consistent with safe service.

Will Be Ninety Miles Long.
The estimated length of the railway will be, approximately, 90 miles.

The proposition has been received with the greatest favor in Macon, the incorporators having been assured through Mayor Bridges Smith of the hearty cooperation of the city administration. The same is true of Griffin.

A direct and easy route has been selected for entry into Macon by the Columbus road. A double track will be laid and a loop will be made around the central blocks of Macon, taking in the hotels, the Southern and Central railway stations and the main business districts.

After adjournment on yesterday the committee of incorporators visited Mayor Woodward, who cordially received them, expressed his great interest in any matter tending to the upbuilding of Atlanta and assured them of his hearty sympathy and cooperation. He discussed with them the proposed entrance into Atlanta, as set out in the petition now pending before council and stated that the route selected met with his commendation.

It is proposed to enter Atlanta at or near the southern end of Capitol avenue, on which double tracks will be laid to Little street, at which point one single track will turn east toward Capitol square up Fraser street. The other track will branch off to the west of Capitol square up Crew street, both tracks meeting at Trinity avenue and running double to Washington street over the new viaduct and among Glimmer and Exchange streets to the Equitable building.

There is no doubt of the road being completed and becoming an accomplished fact, due allowance being made for the time necessary for the preliminary work and the work of construction.
The incorporators are as follows: W. J.
Kirkland, Seaton Grantland, J. M. Braver and N. B. Drewry, of Griffin; W.
Jordan Massey, J. T. Moore and Minter Wimbish, of Macon; Clifford L. Anderson, N. P. Pratt, W. A. Wimbish and Edwin P. Ansley, of Atlanta.

BUNDICK SEEKS NEW TRIAL

Claims Trial in Crisp County Was Illegal, as Crime Was Committed in Dooly.

Attorney General John C. Hart is engaged in the work of preparing to argue on behalf of the state six murder cases which came up in the state supreme court on Monday, June 16. Under the law, the attorney general is required to appear for the state in capital cases when they reach the supreme court.

Particular interest attaches to one of these cases, that of G. W. Bundick, who was convicted in Dooly superior court and sentenced to life imprisonment. In the meantime the new county of Crisp was organized, and G. W. Bundick was tried in Crisp superior court, convicted and sentenced to be hanged.

G. W. Bundick has appealed to the supreme court partly on the ground that he should have been tried in Dooly superior court, even though the territory in which the crime was committed is now Crisp county. He makes this claim on the ground that the constitution of the state provides that a defendant must be tried in the county in which the crime is committed.

Commissioner Hudson Issues
June Crop Report.

Reduction in the Georgia Acreage Is Small, But It Is Reduced—Condition of Crop Below Average—Condition and Prospect of Other Crops.

The June crop report of the state department of agriculture, the first to be issued this year, was given out yesterday by Commissioner of Agriculture T.
G. Hudson, who has compiled the figures from reports made to the department by some 750 correspondents in all parts of the state, averaging five from each county.

Care was taken to secure information from the most reliable sources, and the letters asking for this information were sent only to those known to be posted on the situation in their respective counties and sections.
The result is a carefully prepared report on crop conditions in Georgia which Commissioner Hudson considers is approximately accurate.

The Cotton Situation.
The reports from these 750 correspondents show a decrease rather than an increase in the cotton acreage in Georgia.
The decrease is slight, however, amounting to 1 per cent. The acreage planted this year is estimated to be 99 per cent of that planted last year, when, as is well known, there was a considerable decrease as the result of the campaign of the Southern Cotton Association. The average time of planting the cotton crop this year was ten days later than in 1905. As the result of cold weather and other influences it was necessary this year to replant fully 12.2-3 per cent of the crop. The condition and prospect of cotton as compared with last year is carefully estimated at 85 per cent.

The reports show a slight increase in the use of commercial fertilizers under cotton, the amount this year being put at 104 per cent of that used in 1905. The percentage of the total area in cotton which is fertilized is 94 per cent, and the percentage of commercial fertilizers used under other crops than cotton this year, as compared with last year, is 93.2-3 per cent.

Condition of Other Crops.
The condition of the other large crops grown in Georgia is shown by the June report to be as follows:
The acreage of corn as compared to last year is 100 per cent, or in other words, the acreage is practically the same. The condition and prospect of corn compared to last year's crop at this time is 98 per cent, and the planting generally was ten days late. A few reports from frost, cold winds and worms, but the majority report no casualties.

The acreage in wheat is 92 per cent of that of last year; condition and prospect 104 per cent.
The acreage in sugar cane is 95 per cent of that of last year; condition and prospect 97 per cent.
The acreage in lowland rice is 93 per cent and the acreage in upland rice 92 per cent of that of last year; condition and prospect 97 per cent.

The sorghum acreage is 100 per cent of that of last year; condition and prospect 98 per cent.

The acreage in clover and grasses is 95 per cent of that of last year; condition and prospect 94 per cent.
The reports show that 66 per cent of a full crop of peaches is now indicated; apples 50 per cent; pears 60 per cent;
grapes 92.2-3 per cent.

SOCIETY

Mitchell-Timmons.

THE First Methodist church presented a brilliant scene last night when Miss Alice Eliza Mitchell and Mr. Willis Menefee Timmons were married in the presence of a large and interested gathering of friends.

In the broad chancel, palms and ferns were banked high against the organ gallery from which bamboo trailed down to meet them, and the bridal group, which included a number of attendants, was picturesquely relieved against the soft green background.

Mr. J. Fowler Richardson at the organ played appropriate music before and during the ceremony, and Rev. E. E. L. Timmons, father of the bridegroom, and Dr. C. E. Dowman were the ministers officiating.

The bride entered the church with her brother, Mr. Gordon F. Mitchell, and they were preceded by her maid of honor, Miss Ora Sue Mitchell, Mrs. Cong Madison, matron of honor, followed by the bridesmaids and groomsmen, who entered singly by opposite sides, and the ushers in pairs preceded them, all the attendants crossing at the chancel and were used in an elaborate profusion that fairly filled the house. The stairway winding down to the spacious reception hall was lined with bamboo, and in the drawing room, where the bride and bridegroom received congratulations, they stood before a tall bank of palms. In the living room was the brilliant array of wedding presents.

The dining room had a mural decoration of bamboo, and the circular center table was in pink and white. The reception hall cover was laid over pink satin, and a tall vase of pink and white sweet peas occupied the center. The silver candelsticks had silk shades in the prevalent colors, and the bouquets and feet were in pink and white. A delicious supper was served, and on the porch Misses Mary and Jane Gwin were an attractive pair at the punch bowl. Miss Lillian Mitchell, wearing a white embroidery dress with becoming blue ribbons, poured coffee, and Miss Clara Mitchell, whose handmade white dress was trimmed with Irish point and valencienne lace, had in charge the bride's book.

Mrs. Russell Mitchell was elegantly gowned in black crepe de chine, and she was assisted in receiving by Mrs. I. S.

On the two porches there were bowls of refreshing fruit punch, and Miss Mary Eliza and Miss Eliza Landrum presided at one, Miss Katherine Patty and Miss Jessie Hall at the other.

Dr. Roberts and his bride left at midnight for their wedding trip, and on their return will make their home in Atlanta. He is a physician of ability and success, and a valued member of the Atlanta School of Medicine faculty. He last winter he had occupied for several years an important chair at Emory, and he is a man of broad culture and of the best social qualities.

After the ceremony Mrs. Grogan will entertain a large reception, after which the young couple leave for the coast for a month's stay.

Harris-Worsham.

HERO, GA., June 6.—(Special.)—Miss Maymie Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Harris, of Hero, was married to Mr. Edgar Eugene Worsham at half-past 10 o'clock today, at the Baptist church here.

After the wedding a reception was held at the beautiful home of the parents of the bride.

Mrs. Worsham as Miss Harris was one of the most attractive and popular young ladies of Terrell county and her marriage was one of the social events of the year in this section of the state.

Grogan-Large. MISS EMILY FRANCES GROGAN announces the engagement of her daughter, Emily Clyde, to Mr. B. Marvin Large, the wedding to take place at her home on the evening of Wednesday, June 27.

This announcement is of interest to a large number of Atlantans, and to those of several of the southern cities, where both Mr. Large and Miss Grogan are widely known and very popular. Miss Grogan's musical talent has brought her before the public in the most pleasing manner, and the sweetness of her disposition has enabled her to win the hearts of all with whom she came in contact.

Harris-Worsham. HERO, GA., June 6.—(Special.)—Miss Maymie Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Harris, of Hero, was married to Mr. Edgar Eugene Worsham at half-past 10 o'clock today, at the Baptist church here.

After the wedding a reception was held at the beautiful home of the parents of the bride.

afternoon at the home of Mrs. D.
McIntyre.

To Miss Balfour.
MISS NETTIE TILLER will entertain informally at cards on Saturday afternoon in compliment to Miss Balfour, of Columbus.

To Miss Williams.
MISS HARVIE JORDAN will entertain on Thursday afternoon in compliment to Miss Florence Williams, whose marriage to Mr. Bailey, of Rome, takes place the last of the month. A feature of the occasion will be a miscellaneous shower.

Masculine-Hartwell.
MISS ANDREW MURRAY MAS-SINGALE has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Leslie Floy, to Mr. Ray Vinton Hartwell, the wedding to take place at 9 o'clock on the evening of June 20, at her residence, 474 Campbell avenue.

Comber-Nolan.
MISS MARY COMBER and Mr. William F. Nolan were married on the evening of June 5, at 7 o'clock at the residence of Rev. T. P.
Cleveland, 143 Nelson street.

Miss Berry's Party.
MISS MARGARET BERRY entertained a party of her West End friends Tuesday afternoon, and the occasion was a very happy one.
The house was prettily decorated with margarites, and the score cards contained this idea.

Thirty young ladies played, and Miss Edith Coffield won the first prize, a white parasol, and Mrs. Robert Hughes the consolation, a set of linen handkerchiefs.
A dainty ice course was served after the game. Miss Berry received in a pretty white flannel dress.

Anniversary Party.
LAST night at the residence of Doctor and Mrs. L. C. Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. Van Astor celebrated the second anniversary of their marriage.
The party included the family and guests who acted as attendants on the occasion of the wedding. A delicious buffet supper was served from a table adorned with flowers and dainties.
The same flowers combined with ferns decorated the drawing room, and Mrs. Barnard was charming in a white dress trimmed in lace.

Mrs. Wilson's Luncheon.
MISS A. MELD WILSON entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of two lovely brides-elect.
June, Miss Phoebe Ellis and Miss Edith Amesden, and the affair was a beautiful one, the party numbering eight. They were seated about a table elegant in its appointments and fragrant with sweet peas, the centerpiece a pyramid of these flowers, runners from red through pink to white. There were quaint rose candlesticks, and silver and cut glass dishes filled with varied dainties. The score cards were hand-painted, and the bride and groom were in the same and the luncheon was an elaborate and delicious one.

The guests were Miss Ellis, Miss Ames-den, Miss Hattie Ellis, Miss Arthur Wilson, Miss Louise Dooly, Mrs. Wilson was a handsome hostess in black and white, her striped organdy gown trimmed with black tulle lace.
Miss Amesden was a pretty picture in white mull, embroidered in blue, her black lace trimmed with tiny pink rosebuds. Miss Ellis was lovely in a white eyelid embroidery dress with a black picture hat and pink roses. Mrs. Arthur Wilson wore a black spangled net gown over coral color. Miss Peters wore a blue mull princess dress, and Miss Ellis wore a green linen suit over a lingerie waist with a hat of white Neapolitan straw and roses, and Miss Carson's gown was cream mull.

Weaver-Porter.
In Thomaston, Ga., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A.
Weaver, Sr., on Wednesday afternoon,
June 6th at five o'clock Miss Caroline
Cook Weaver and Mr. Mark Alexander Porter were united in marriage. Rev.
William Dember officiating.

The reception room and parlor were thrown together and beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and festooning smiles. Contrasted with these exquisite shades of green were great bunches of white hydrangeas, while the cabinet mantels were banked with a profusion of sweet peas.

Amidst these lovely flowers the young couple marched to the strains of Men-delsohn artistically rendered on the violin and the piano by the two sisters of the bride. She carried a slender bou-quet of hellebore and lilacs of the valley. Her gown of chiffon panama cloth was charming, simple in construction.

A white silk waist colorfully trimmed with baby's foot lace and medallions lace, trimmed harmoniously with the dark blue Elton jacket, the same harmony of color being preserved in the blue lace just by a few white roses intermingled with the blue violets.

bride's father, only the most intimate friends of the family were invited, but the presents were numerous and handsome. Besides a generous supply of conventional things in table linen, cut glass, hand painted china and sterling silver, there were unique mixtures of clay, crystal and metal things useful and beautiful, that only an art expert could name and define.

An exquisite creation by the bride's best girl friend was a beautifully mounted hand-made lace fan whose fairy filaments Queen Mab's spinners might have envied.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter left on the six o'clock train going via Norfolk directly to New York where they will first visit Mr. Porter's family and then spend a few weeks dressing in "Rip Van Winkles" country and leaving to the rear of Niagara. After that they will be at home to their friends in Atlanta.

Mr. Porter who is with the Bell Telephone in Atlanta was born and reared in New York. Mrs. Porter already has many friends in Atlanta whose her path-er is very well known and highly respected. She will be an addition to Atlanta society, having a decided talent for music. She has both enjoyed and improved the musical advantages of "West Point college" and "Kendworth conservatory." Then too, she has the inimitable, unacquirable charm of high-bred ancestry, uniting in her veins the blood of the Drakes, the Flowerlenses, the Cooks and the Weavers.

Rummage Sale.
The women of St. Luke's Episcopal church will give a rummage sale at 143 Edgewood avenue, Saturday, June 9. All contributions to the sale may be sent to the above place after 11 o'clock Friday morning.

Bates-Methvin.
A wedding of much interest to a large circle of friends was that of Miss Eave Bates and Mr. W. E. Methvin, which took place Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bates, 139 Luckie street.

The best man was Mr. A. F. Robinson, of Atlanta, and the bridesmaid was Miss Emmie Irby, of Atlanta, both life long friends of the bride and groom.

The ceremony was performed by Rev.
Len G. Broughton in an impressive manner.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of liberty crepe, trimmed with panne velvet, passing miensterie. She wore a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair, and carried a shower of white and pink roses.

The bridesmaids wore a gown of Japanese silk, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The house was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and smilax.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Methvin left for America for a few days, after which they will reside in Anniston, Ala. The many friends of the couple with them much happiness and success in life.

To Mrs. David Smith.
Mrs. J. W. Morrow, Jr., entertained delightfully at cards yesterday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. David Smith.

Thirty ladies were present to meet her, and the house was attractively decorated for their reception with Marguerites.
The score cards were the same flowers handpainted, and the lace which followed an enjoyable salad course were in yellow and white, the daisy colors.

The first prize, a gold and pearl trimmed tortoise shell comb, was won by Mrs. T. L. Lewis, Jr., and the consolation prize, a gold and pearl comb, was won by Mrs. L. C. Green. The guest of honor was presented a gold belt buckle.

Mrs. Morrow and Mrs. Smith were daintily dressed in white. Mrs. Frank Loyd and Mrs. Graham Morrow were pretty lace trimmed dresses of white.

Mrs. Hines' Luncheon.
Mrs. Joseph Hines will entertain at luncheon on Wednesday, the 14th.

RAMSEY-JOHNSON.
West Point, Ga., June 6.—(Special.)—
This afternoon at half past three o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Johnson, Miss Lelia Johnson was married to Mr. D. L. Ramsey, of Louisville, Ky. The ceremony was performed in an impressive manner by Rev. S. P. Wiggins. After congratulations of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey left at 4 o'clock for their future home in Tennessee.

Mr. Ramsey is owner and proprietor of a large stock farm in East Tennessee.

A WONDERFUL RECORD IN SHORTHAND WRITING

A few days ago Mr. L. C. Spencer, who is demonstrating the new character system of shorthand at Jackson College, 198 Peachtree street, made the astonishing and almost incredible claim that he could teach pupils of ordinary ability in one week's time to write his system at the rate of 100 words per minute (practically matter), and to read their notes readily.

The public is cordially invited to attend the demonstration and see for themselves the wonderful results obtained.
Court reporters and professional stenographers of the city have investigated it, and all have pronounced it a marvelous system. Mr. Spencer invites criticisms and comparisons with other systems.

EDUCATION BOARD JOINED.

Unsuccessful Bidders Ask for Restraining Order.

Augusta, Ga., June 6.—(Special.)—Judge Henry Hammond today granted a temporary restraining order against the board of education prohibiting it from letting the contract for building the new fifth ward school to T. O. Brown & son, contractors, building a school for the board of education. The order was obtained by the unsuccessful bidders, who allege that the Brown bid was not the lowest; that they are not allowed to know what the figures are; that the bids were opened in secret, and that the award is illegal in that T. O. Brown is a member of the board of education. Hearing on the petition for a permanent injunction will be had on June 13.

The taking the matter into court marks the end of a great deal of dissatisfaction that has been since the announcement of the committee award two weeks ago.

WHEN YOU WERE YOUNG

With a vigorous appetite and healthy digestion, all food tasted good and three full meals a day could hardly satisfy your hunger.
Indigestion, constipation and torpid liver were things heard of, but seldom experienced. You were blessed with sweet, refreshing slumber and never worried by horrid dreams and hideous visions. But time or disregard for the laws of health have changed all this, and you need something now to assist in the digestion and assimilation of food and tone up the system. Nothing could do you more good than Daniel Mineral Water, which has no equal as a remedy for disorders of the stomach. It is especially recommended for indigestion, constipation, insomnia and nervous dyspepsia. It is a natural, not a manufactured water.

Suicide Gains Her Case.

Albany, N. Y., June 6.—The court of appeals yesterday affirmed, with costs, a judgment of $2,262 in favor of Anna T.
Fargo, of Wyoming county, against the supreme tent of the Knights of the Ma-coucabees of the world, a fraternal organization. The case is of interest in view of the fact that the plaintiff's husband, who held a policy in the organization, committed suicide, and despite the fact that the by-laws state that no benefits shall be paid to the survivors of a member who commits suicide, whether sane or insane, the lower courts awarded the plaintiff a verdict and the highest court in the state a judgment.

Billy Smith stuffed the eleventh straight victory of the local club into a cozy corner of his capacious pocket yesterday afternoon by winning from Charles Frank's Birds in a baffling and otherwise harrowing contest, score 5 to 3.

A groom was cast over the spectators in the eighth inning, when Archer left leg was fractured by "Punch" Knoll, sliding into him at the plate. Punch was, however, in no way to blame for the accident, and the mishap was one of those which will occur in baseball.

The twirlers Hughes and Manuel were tearing round like broncos and both the batters were hit most opportunely by the opposing batsmen. Tommy Hughes was hit by Manuel and to this is due the credit of the game.

Atlanta Score First Run.

In the first inning an inexcusable error by Bill Blake, of the visitors, gave Atlanta a run gratis. After two batters out Sid Smith was hit. Morse base on batted, and Fox hit a sky high fly to Bill Blake. Bill's mitts were grooved and the ball slid through. Sid Smith scored and Morse could undoubtedly have crossed the plate had he been warned beforehand that Blake would make an error.

In the Pellet's first, advancing to the plate with a bat he had only two minutes before Crozier's first strike and Joe rapped home.

In the second pump fielding by the Pellet's and some pretty hitting by Atlanta saw two more runs come to the locals. Jordan doubled to left and went to third, when Archer laid down a bunt that fairly tipped the Pellet's on their think tanks. Archer was safe. Hughes went out from Man to Beck, sending Archer to second and Jordan being held at third. Crozier's second strike and Archer going to third. A scoring and Archer going to third. A double steal was tried. Archer being caught at first and Crozier's second strike. Sid Smith batted a free pass and Sid Smith singled to center. Crozier scored, making the two runs.

In the third the Birds crossed the Piedmont dikes. Blake, waded and scored when Knoll doubled to left. No more in that go.

In the seventh for Atlanta Fox singled after Morse was out. Sid Smith and Jordan singled in rapid succession, sending James scoreward.

How Archer Was Hurt.

In the eighth "Punch" Knoll doubled to left. Beck singled to left and Knoll came toward home. R. Crozier's first strike and Archer was the recipient of the toss. Knoll slid in feet foremost and Archer being caught at first. Crozier's second strike and Archer going to third. A scoring and Archer going to third. A double steal was tried. Archer being caught at first and Crozier's second strike. Sid Smith batted a free pass and Sid Smith singled to center. Crozier scored, making the two runs.

JIMMY ARCHER OUT OF GAME STEEL BARONS TAKE ANOTHER

Had His Leg Broken at the Plate Yesterday Afternoon.

Jimmy Archer received a hurt yesterday in the eighth inning of the Atlanta-New Orleans game which, according to the attending physicians, will put the able backstop out of commission for at least a fortnight. In the meanwhile, Jack Evers will hold the reins of catcher.

"Punch" Knoll was the gent who accidentally hurt Archer while sliding into the plate and the Atlanta had to be carried from the field by a squad of four athletes. Archer was carried to the dressing room in a semi-conscious state and suffering great pain all the while.

Jimmy was attended by two doctors last night and the statement given out was that the Atlanta had to be carried to the dressing room in a semi-conscious state and suffering great pain all the while.

Interesting Figures.In the County 2,845 Negro Children and 1,007 White Ones Attend Schools, Blacks Predominating Three to One.Americus, Ga., June 6.—(Special).—In the presentations of the grand jury, published today, interesting figures relating to attendance upon public schools of Sumter county are given. During the past year eighty-one public schools were opened with a total scholarship enrollment of 3,852 pupils. Of this number, 1,007 were white children and 2,845 colored children, the negroes predomi-nating by nearly three to one. This statement does not include the American public schools, where the attendance is 1,500 and nearly evenly divided.

BISHOP SATTERLEE CONTROLS

He Will Have New Faculty for the Cathedral School.Washington, June 6.—President Roosevelt, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, today attended the commencement exercises of the National Cathedral School for girls, an institution in the northwestern suburbs of Washington, in which their daughter, Miss Ethel, is a student.
The school is under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal church and is directly under the supervision of Right Rev. Henry Y. Satterlee, bishop of Washington. On account of a difference of opinion as to the management of the institution between Bishop Satterlee and the present principals, the school, beginning with the next academic year, will be under other principals selected by the bishop.President and Mrs. Roosevelt were received at the cathedral school by Admiral Dewey, a member of the board of trustees. Bishop Satterlee presided at the graduation exercises. President Roosevelt delivered the address to the graduating class, consisting of nine young women, dwelling particularly on the development of character and the need of living a wholly unselfish life. At the conclusion of the president's address the diplomas were presented to the graduating class, and the ceremonies were concluded with a benediction by Bishop Satterlee.

OLD LANDMARK
FEEDS PEOPLEGeorgia Food, Georgia Methods at Folsom's Appease Hunger.Georgians are the healthiest people in the world, because they have the heartiest appetites. They have the heartiest appetites because they eat Georgia food.
They can't help eating plenty of Georgia food, because there is something in the Georgia method of cooking that's simply irresistible.I. B. Folsom, the man who has made Folsom's restaurant a landmark for Atlanta and Georgia, knew this when he started in the business—oh, ever so many years ago.He made it a fundamental principle to cater to the Georgia appetite. Good, pure food; plenty of it; variety; everything in its season; cooking of the best and most tempting. Everything homelike about you when you sit down to a meal.That's why his place on Marietta street has been the eating-house for the generation that is getting gray hairs in its head, as well as the youngsters coming up, who are following in the footsteps of their fathers by cultivating robust appetites, and—Going to Folsom's to get them satisfied.He has another restaurant now, has Folsom. He wasn't satisfied with one.
The public sort of compelled him to open another place where Folsom's methods would be in force. He met this demand with his branch on the little sidewalk that runs from Vineland viaduct to the Broad street bridge; where, although the custom is quite good, there is room for more.Mention his name or that of any of his clerks in any town in Georgia and they'll know who and what you're talking about. They may have been to one of his places last week; if they're coming to town this or next week, one of the two will probably be their destination.People in town know the same thing.
They know whether they want one of these satisfying, come-again Georgia meals, or the season's dainties, they can get them on Marietta street or the Vin-eland Way.

MORRIS BROWN HAS CLOSED.

Enrollment of the College During Past Year Has Reached
Total of 1,047.Morris Brown college, an institution for colored youth, closes a very successful year. The enrollment this year has been 1,047. Fifty young men and women have graduated from different departments of the school. Two of the graduates are Horant N. Tantsi, of South Africa, and David R. Talbot, of South America, who leave this week for their former homes.The report of the president was encouraging, and showed what the negro race is doing in a wise, conservative and practical way to help the masses along practical lines.The trustee board, of which Bishop Turner is chairman, represents 150,000 African Methodists in the state of Georgia. Dean M. M. Patton, a worker in connection with the John C. Martin Bible Training schools in the south, was elected to a chair in the theological department. Charles L. Harper was also added to the faculty. The faculty was unanimously reelected. Four other teachers, two for the industrial department and two for the grades, are very much needed.R. D. Stinson, the vice president, read a report of more than twenty pages, giving an account of all subscriptions, collections and contributions to the school from friends in every part of the country. The total contributions were more than $14,000. He urged that definite steps be taken to erect a commodious and modern plan industrial building for blacksmith, wheelwright, painting shops, also where printing, shoemaking, masonry, laundry, harness-making and all sorts of trades common to this section may be taught. He said the building was to cost $25,000, and that quite half of the amount would be furnished by Mr. Andrew Carnegie. He declared to the trustees that there was little room for pessimism, but there was every reason to believe that the school should have a practical education that would enable each girl and boy to be useful, not only in the community where he lives, but for himself, and that he did not urge this because it was a demand of other races but for the race's own good.The Carnegie gift was accepted, and Commissioner Stinson hopes to secure sufficient funds to erect the building—that is, so much needed, by the close of the next term. The trustees assessed the churches in the state $6,000, to be raised Sunday, September 16.

Dublin Public Schools

Dublin, Ga., June 6.—(Special).—Last night Professor Kyle T. Allfriend, who for the past eleven years has been connected with the Georgia Military college, at Milledgeville, was elected superintendent of the Dublin public schools.
Professor O. F. Hixon has been reelected principal of the Johnson street grammar school, and Carl Leake, of Meridian, Miss., has been elected director of music.
This completes the faculty for the coming year, the other teachers having been elected previously.

Americus Hospital.

Americus, Ga., June 6.—(Special).—At the annual meeting of the Americus Hospital Association, today, Arthur Rylander was elected president, Judge Charles R. Crisp, vice president, Rev. J. L. Irvin, secretary, and G. Morgan Eldridge, treasurer. The hospital has just completed its first year and the success resulting since its establishment is most gratifying, many patients having been successfully treated at this great charitable institution, among the best equipped in the state.

Passed Counterfeit.

Columbus, Ga., June 6.—(Special).—Mary Cunningham, a negro woman, 25 years old, who is a laundry worker, was today brought over by United States Commissioner Brown on the charge of passing counterfeit dollars. Many bogus dollars have been passed in Columbus during the past few months and there has been much speculation as to where the money came from.Fully a dozen merchants identified Mary Cunningham as the person who had passed or tried to pass counterfeit money on them.Through Sleeper to Asheville, Com-
